PATRIOTIC MEETING.

Immediately after the patriotic speaking at the Court House, Sept. 23rd, a meeting is hereby called of all patriotic citizens of the county for the purpose of organizing for the Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign.

WINS THE BLUE

Mrs. J. B. Mount had the honor of winning the blue tie on her rose quilt at the State Fair last week. Miss Joan also won the first prize on her "morning glory" quilt. The competition in this class was very large and it meant quite an honor to win the blue tie over them all.

RODMAN KEENON TO SPEAK

Tramplly at one o'clock next Monday afternoon Hon. Rodman Keenon, Clerk of the Court of Appeals will address the citizens of Garrard county. Mr. Keenon comes at the instance of the Democratic Chairman, Mr. V. A. Lear, and is a speaker of ability. Every one is invited. He will speak only thirty minutes.

DR CROSSFIELD

The first wedge for the opening of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign will be driven here next Monday afternoon, when Dr. R. H. Crossfield of Lexington, will deliver the principal address. Immediately after the address the organization will be effected preliminary to the drive which will begin on September 28th. Everybody is invited and expected to be in Lancast this meeting.

SONGS OF ACTION

"I like a nice mince pie—Becos it's nice—nice—nice—"
The foregoing was one of the favorite songs at the front in 1915. "Hello, who's your holy friend?" was another.

Not much about the war in them, is there? There wasn't in "Tipperary," either.

The boys in France don't sing songs about canning the Kaiser, dying for the flag, and so forth. They leave that to us. They are making the extreme effort, the utmost sacrifice, and to chatter about it is unbecomingly to them. Continuous abnegation endures them with a dignity and refinement which we who are safe in Lancaster have not yet attained.

MEETING CONTINUES.

The protracted meeting which began at the Christian church ten days ago continues with unabated interest, large congregations coming out each evening. Aside from the delightful sermons by Dr. Montgomery, the music and singing is equally enjoyed and the work and untiring energy of Mrs. May Hughes Noland is being commended from all sources. Mrs. Harry Tomlinson has delighted the audiences with her work on the organ, while Mrs. Hucker Spindle has likewise pleased with her efficient assistance on the piano.

There has been about twenty additions to the church, both by confession and letter. In all probability the meeting will close next Sunday night.

DEPENDABLE

OPTICAL WORK.

Dr. J. J. Byrne, the well known Optometrist and Optician is now at the Kengarlan Hotel, Lancaster, and will remain over until Monday 23rd. If you want up-to-date optical work, see him.

INSTANTLY KILLED

IN AUTO WRECK

George Broadus a well known colored man was instantly killed near Paint Lick last Tuesday evening about six o'clock, the accident occurring just in front of the residence of Mr. R. G. Woods.

Broadus was driving an automobile he had just purchased and was racing with some one in another car, when he suddenly lost control and the car turned turtle several times, heading itself in the opposite direction. His neck was broken and death was instantaneous. His wife who alone was with him in the car received severe injuries which some think may prove fatal.

Broadus had just finished serving a nine months term in prison for writing an insulting letter to a lady who lived in the Paint Lick neighborhood. Beside the jail sentence he was given a heavy fine which he paid. He had some money.

DR. J. S. GILBERT

RECEIVES COMMISSION IN MEDICAL RESERVE.

Friends of Dr. J. S. Gilbert are congratulating him upon his recent appointment as First Lieutenant in the United States Medical Reserve Corps. His commission arrived last week and he is ordered to report on September 22nd, for service.

Dr. Gilbert is one of the best known and best liked physicians in the county. He has been practicing his profession here for about twelve years and in offering his services to the government, it means a great financial sacrifice. He has a host of friends who will wish him godspeed in the branch of service he has chosen.

TWELVE MORE MEN

TO ENTRAIN TO-DAY FOR MILITARY SERVICE.

The following men in Class One held for general military service are ordered to report to the Local Board at nine A. M. on Thursday Sept. 19, 1918, for entrainment, to report to the Commanding Officer, State University, Lexington, Ky.: Garrett H. Smith, Stanford, R. R. 1; Fred Snyder, Lancaster, R. R. 1; Zack Hester, Paint Lick, Ky.; John L. Yeakey, Marcellus, Ky.; Dalton Rich, Stanford, R. R. 1; Sewell G. Ham, Lancaster R. R. 3; Amzi C. Green, Lancaster, R. R. 1; Howard Jenkins, Lancaster, Ky.; William McK. Gay, Lancaster, Ky.; Howard C. Warren, Lancaster, Ky.; Richard T. Luckey, Lancaster, Ky.; Wallace Cotton, Lancaster, Ky.; LOCAL BOARD GARRARD CO., Lancaster, Ky.

GARRARD'S ESTI-

MATE EXCEEDED.

The Government had estimated that Garrard County would register 1,300 last Thursday was exceeded, the total number of men who recorded themselves as willing to fight the cause of Uncle Sam, being 1,432. The total number of registrants on June 5th, 1917 was 1,004, these being between the ages of 21 and 31 years. Of the number registered last Thursday, 1,193 were white and 239 were colored men.

The government has intimated that those to be called first will be between the ages of 19 to 20 and 31 to 34 years, the total number in Garrard county coming within these ages will be about 600 men.

The work of copying the cards will begin in a few days or just as soon as more cards are forwarded from the department. When this is done the questionnaires will be sent out immediately and it is thought that many within the last registration will be called into service during the month of October.

The Local Board is anxious to have all the assistance possible from any of the ladies or men that can give their time toward the copying of the cards, which means quite a little detail work.

Many have already volunteered their services.

ARE THERE FOOD AND

SUGAR SLACKERS

IN GARRARD?

Reports are current that the food regulations are being evaded in Garrard county.

It is rumored that some persons, especially those living in the rural section of the county, esteem it a mark of smartness to get around the regulations and get more than their amount of sugar.

Some store more flour than they are entitled to and feed their surplus meal to the hogs and chickens. Some make open boasts that "sugar is plentiful in our house," or "that we don't have to eat cornbread."

Any man who stoops to take advantage of the distribution of essential foods and get more than his share is robbing the brave boys he has sent across the water to fight his battles; he is taking food out of the mouths of starving women and children in the desolate part of France and Belgium, whose brave men have so long kept the red tide of invasion from his home, who have protected his wife and his girls.

Any man who is unwilling to gladly deny himself in this hour of his country's peril, is not worthy the name of American. He is a poltroon, and it is the duty of every American citizen to whom the flag means anything to report such evaders to the proper authorities.

PRICES FOR CORN

CUTTING FIXED

At a meeting of the Food Administration Board at Lexington last Friday prices were fixed by the Board for corn cutting.

For corn cut eighteen hills square to the shock, 25 cents will be paid; for shocks sixteen hills square, 20 cents will be paid.

Thirty cents a shock will be paid for shucking the larger ones and twenty-five cents a shock for the smaller ones.

The movement is a wise one and all farmers will now have to pay a uniform price, both for cutting and shucking.

REMARKABLE CASE OF

"SECOND CHILDHOOD"

One of the most remarkable cases of second childhood is told us by Mr. Ed Whitted, a man of undoubted integrity and one of the most prominent farmers in the county. He tells us that Mr. Saleon Wylie a prominent citizen of the Cartersville section, now eighty three years old, has just completed cutting his third set of teeth. All are perfect and just as sound and even as the first set. His eyesight is just as good as when he was 18 years old. Except from an injury received about thirteen months ago, which has confined him to his bed since that time, he has enjoyed the best of health and says he expects to live to be 100 years old.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

AT BUCKEYE CHURCH.

Sunday was a "Red Letter" day at Liberty Baptist Church at Buckeye. The series of meetings being conducted there have become quite interesting. At the Sunday morning service a "Service Flag" was presented to the church by Miss Lenna Hollon in honor of the seven men of that church who have been or are in the service. Those men are:—Reather Long whose tragic death by drowning occurred several weeks ago; Willie Long who has been honorably discharged because of ill health; Mike Simpson and Elbert Moberly of Camp Taylor; Willie Calico stationed at Greenleaf, Georgia; Eugene Bradshaw who is on his way to France; Burch Locker, who is in Alabama. After the presentation by Miss Hollon the pastor Rev. D. F. Sebastian accepted the flag in behalf of the church, in a few well chosen words. Rev. Willett then delivered a very touching sermon on "God's Service Flag". The occasion was probably the most touching, thrilling services ever held at this historic old church and will live long in the memories of those present.

OUR INDIVIDUAL PART.

Some observers think that the most characteristic thing about the American soldiers in France, something which astounds the enemy and excites the admiration of our allies, is the capacity of the American soldiers to do individual thinking and fighting. The German fights successfully only in mass formation, in organized bodies, while every American soldier has an initiative and independence of action which gives him remarkable efficiency in open fighting. They are not senseless cogs, but each is an individual working unit in a great fighting machine.

Every American at home should feel an individual responsibility and do his or her individual part in winning the war. There is not an American citizen who can not help win the war. The Fourth Liberty Loan drive, which begins September 28th, offers a great opportunity for concerted action and for individual action, and the loan will be a tremendous success if each American will do his or her individual part as each American soldier in France does his part. Our soldiers deserve such support from the people at home.

SOME LIBERTY

LOAN SLOGANS.

Wear your old clothes and buy Liberty Bonds. Liberty Bonds or German bondage. "Come across" or the Kaiser will. The soldier gives; you must lend. Liberty Bonds or German taxes. Buy over here to win over there. It's billions for defense or billions for indemnity.

For Fuch and freedom; buy bonds. A bond slacker is the Kaiser's backer.

A man who wont lend is the Kaiser's friend.

The more bonds you buy the fewer boys will die.

Let all get on the bond wagon.

Be one of the millions to lend the billions.

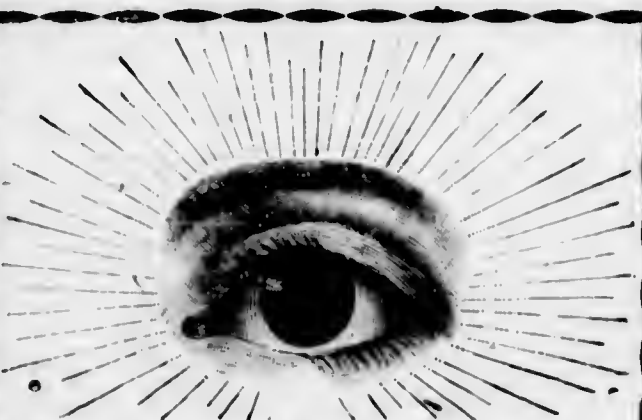

Dig up the coin and bury the Hun.

Buy bonds before it's verboten. Idle dollars are pro-German.

Put the "pay" into patriotism.

Bonds speak louder than words.

If you can't fight, your money can. Freemen buy bonds; slaves wear them.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BUREAU OF CROP ESTIMATES.

A noticeable feature of the September report of the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates is that the farmers in Kentucky report they have on hand 6 per cent more hogs for fattening than they had Sept. 1, 1917. The entire United States reports indicate over 8 per cent more hogs on hand for fattening than at this time last year.

Kentucky's crop prospects are somewhat better since the general rains that began in the latter part of August, but there will still be a great reduction in the corn, potato, tobacco and hemp crops compared to those of 1917. The corn crop now promises about 25 per cent less than in 1917; tobacco about 20 per cent less; and potatoes about 33 per cent less. Considerably more oats were produced in Kentucky this year than in 1917; and a very fine hay crop, larger than in 1917. Although the potato crop is much smaller than in 1917 it should be remembered that the 1917 crop was very large. Tobacco is now growing very rapidly and unless very early frosts should catch it a large part of the crop will make up for much of the drought damage, though a large part of the crop had to be cut before the rain could help it. Other states will more than make up Kentucky's shortage in tobacco, however, and a bumper crop is now in sight. The hemp acreage in Kentucky this year was less than half the 1917 acreage and the drought ruined a large part of this season's small crop, so that it will be fit only for tow. Wisconsin has a large hemp crop this year, about the same acreage as Kentucky, that promises to yield well in fiber, the seed can not be matured there.

Kentucky's corn crop is now estimated at 89,638,000 bushels compared to 122,850,000 bushels grown last year. The United States corn crop is now estimated at 2,673,318,000 bushels compared to 3,159,491,000 bushels in 1917.

OATS grown in Kentucky this season are estimated at 8,167,000 bushels, compared to 8,060,000 last year. The United States oats crop this year is about 1,176,930,000 bushels, compared to 1,587,286,000 bushels in 1917.

TOBACCO grown in Kentucky this year is estimated at 342,884,000 pounds compared to 426,600,000 lbs. grown in 1917. The United States crop this season now promises 1,217,179,000 pounds, compared to 1,190,451,000 pounds grown last year.

IRISH POTATOES in Kentucky this season will produce about 4,520,000 bushels compared to 6,720,000 bushels last year. The United States potato crop this year is 384,453,000 bushels compared to 442,536,000 bushels in 1917.

HAY produced in Kentucky this year is about 1,400,000 tons compared to 1,194,000 tons last year. The United States hay crop this year is about 86,300,000 tons compared to 94,930,000 tons last year.

BARLEY in Kentucky this year produced about the same as in 1917, 140,000 bushels. The United States barley crop is about 235,775,000 bushels this year compared to 208,975,000 bushels in 1917.

WOOL production in Kentucky this year was about 3 per cent more than in 1917, while wool production in the entire United States was nearly 7 per cent greater than in 1917.

SWEET POTATOES in Kentucky will yield about 936,000 bushels this year compared to 1,140,000 bushels in 1917. The United States sweet potato crop is about 80,977,000 bushels compared to 87,141,000 bushels in 1917.

Gordon's Defense of Khartum.

For sheer duration General Gordon's heroic defense of Khartum excelled all modern sieges, for it lasted 317 days, or just nine days shorter than the Russian retention of Sebastopol. Unfortunately, as we all know, its termination was a tragedy, embittered by the fact that a very few days later the would-be army of relief arrived, only in time to pick up the threads of a pitiful disaster.

Fog Magnifies.

If you see a person in a fog he seems to be much bigger than usual. The same thing happens when you see men or cattle on the top of a hill against the horizon in twilight. In both cases you judge them to be farther away than they really are, and consequently they appear uncommonly large.

What Do You Think of That?

There is an aspect of spider and fly relation which fidulists and naturalists alike have overlooked. An observer has brought the microscope to bear on many house flies and finds that the parasite upon that hateful insect is often an enormous spider. Two weeks yet to spin its web it makes the fly its winged prey, and causes from place to place at the will of its captives; either until Pegasus perishes naturally or presumably until the spider has grown up and is able to make a meal of its charger.

A SAFE TEST.

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Lancaster people.

W. M. Zanone, Crab Orchard St., Lancaster, says: "My kidneys were irregular in action and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had pains through my back and sides and after I stooped over, I could hardly straighten up. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they completely relieved me of all the trouble." (Statement given February 6th, 1912.)

On November 17, 1916, Mr. Zanone said: "I gladly confirm all I said in my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have very little trouble with my kidneys now, but when I do, I can depend on Doan's Kidney Pills, for they always relieve me."

This House is Sunburnt

Buildings suffer from sunburn as much as people do, when they're not protected from Old Sol's grilling rays.

Few could afford enough cold-cream to soothe a blistered barn, but we all can afford a coat or two of paint to keep the barn from blistering.

Good paint gives the sun's rays no chance to warp and crack the wood, so that rain may drive in and start decay.

French Sugar Mills Destroyed

France must import sugar today, most of it from this side of the ocean, because the largest portion of French sugar beet land is in German hands. As a result, the French people have been placed on a sugar ration of about 18 pounds a year for domestic use; 750,000 tons of sugar and had some photograph shows how the German troops destroyed French sugar mills.

Thanks to the French rationing system the annual consumption has been cut to 600,000 tons, according to reports reaching the United States Food Administration before the war France had an average sugar crop of about 750,000 tons of sugar and had some photograph shows how the German troops destroyed French sugar mills.

Saving Sugar Saves Shipping

AMERICAN families would have less sugar than the people of war torn France, if we depended entirely on our home-grown sugar stocks.

Approximately 75 per cent. of our sugar is shipped to our shores. We produce about 1,000,000 tons of sugar a year. Our imports from abroad amount to over 8,000,000 tons a year in normal times.

The United States Food Administration asks each family to limit its use of sugar to two pounds per month per person for household use. The military situation demands that every available ship be placed at the disposal of the Army or Navy. When we save sugar, we save shipping.

HER REWARD

By MARGUERITE HAGGERTY

Situated on a lofty height, nestling amid a grove of nature's luxuriant pines and elms, stood an old-fashioned country mansion. On the shady veranda of this ideal havenly spot was seated a sweet-faced girl of seventeen. Her thoughts were not all sunshiny ones, for every once in a while there would flash across her fair countenance a mischievous smile, which, however, would soon become enveloped by a more serious expression. Julia Caverly was loved both home and abroad.

Julia had one pet grievance. Every year she eagerly looked forward to spending her summer at River-view, but the only obstacle to her blissful reveries was the forbidding remembrance that her father could spend but one week each summer with them, as his business was such that he could not remain away for any longer period of time.

Suddenly Julia ran in from the porch, as she spied the postman. "Mamma, you know daddy promised to try and spend two weeks with us this summer. I feel sure that I will receive some welcome news from dear old dad today." She leaped in front of the good-natured letter carrier who, however, was not in the least surprised, for he had become accustomed to the young girl's impulsive manners. With a roguish smile she snatched the letter from his hand, and headed toward her mother with all possible speed. She hastily tore open the envelope and devoured the contents. All her joy had fled, as she threw the letter to the floor. "Oh, mamma, I cannot read it aloud. I think the very words would choke me. I don't see how business could be so pressing that daddy could not spare us at least one measly little week."

"Try to forget your troubles for the present, dear," replied her mother, "and run along and prepare for lunch."

After lunch a boy of her dearest girl friends arrived, and announced that their yacht was ready to start for a long trip down the river. "The party will start tomorrow," said one of the girls, "so Julia, I thought we would run over to remind you to be ready on time, so we can launch forth early in the morning." "How long do you intend to be away?" asked Julia. "It will be fully two weeks, my bonny lass," was the answer of the spokesman of the group, "so pack up a well-stocked wardrobe."

When the girls had departed Julia informed her mother that she intended to visit Mrs. Jackson, a dear old lady who had been an invalid for a number of years.

The pitiful eyes of the sick woman dilated with joy when she beheld in the doorway the face of her generous little benefactor. A soothing word and a gentle caress from Julia lightened the heart of many a lonely soul, but no love was ever more reciprocal than that which sprang up between Mrs. Jackson and Julia Caverly. A basket of tastefully prepared dainties was laid out on the table, and after a confidential chat of an hour or so, Mrs. Jackson reluctantly bade good-bye to her little friend.

The next morning, Julia, in high spirits, sat waiting with her baggage to join the merry band of sixteen that were due to arrive in a few minutes. Hearing the sound of running steps, she turned around quickly just as a little fellow bobbed up in front of her. "Miss Caverly, do please come in a hurry; Mrs. Jackson is very sick." Julia did not stop to think of her own enjoyment for an instant. The message was unfiled to her mother, and she expressed her intention of leaving immediately to see the sick old lady. Mrs. Caverly protested with her daughter in vain, arguing that she, herself, would tend to the invalid's wants, and not to sacrifice her trip for the sake of being obstinate. Finally Julia overruled all her mother's objections.

That evening as Julia was returning home, after spending the day nursing her loved patient, her heart felt rather heavy, but as soon as she felt any pang of regret she would begin to hum a popular air and hasten her steps homeward. Mrs. Caverly felt exceedingly proud of her generous-hearted daughter that evening as she listened to her relating how Mrs. Jackson was resting very comfortably now, and that she would never forgive herself if she had neglected to respond to her pitiable appeal. Feeling quite fatigued, Julia sank into a lounging chair and soon fell fast asleep.

Creeping cautiously behind her chair, her father placed his hands gently over her eyes, while her mother, nearby, laughingly said: "Wake up, Julia, dear, and guess who your blindfolded is." "None other than my own dear daddy," exclaimed the excited girl. "Are you glad to see me, Julia, dear?" coaxingly asked her father. To reassure him of her sincere affection, Julia gave him a hug and a kiss. Her father chuckled with delight as he continued: "That was certainly a huge joke to send you that letter yesterday, but I wanted to completely surprise you by paying a full week's visit." "Daddy, you surely are a fine rogue. You can thank Mrs. Jackson, however, for seeing me here today. Why, I would be calling far out on the water by this time, only her temporary sick spell detained me. But oh! Daddy, you old dear, I would gladly exchange any pleasure trip just to be with you."

HUNTERS MUST OBSERVE

BOTH FEDERAL AND STATE GAME LAWS

To Avoid Violations, Shooting Must Be Confined To The Time During Which It Is Not Prohibited By Either Set Of Regulations.

In making their plans to shoot migratory waterfowl, hunters will do well to note the dates of open seasons under both Federal and State Laws. This caution by the United States Department of Agriculture results from evidence of confusion in the minds of some sportsmen in regard to the opening of the season when the dates conflict under State and Federal laws.

The Federal law and regulations limit the seasons before and after which no one may shoot these birds. If a State law opens the season later or closes it earlier than the dates prescribed by the Federal regulations, the season in that State is just as much further shortened. Special attention is called to the fact that the Federal regulations do not authorize any one to hunt or kill migratory birds contrary to the State law.

In certain States, as for example, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, and South Dakota, the season for shooting migratory waterfowl under the State law would open prior to the date of opening under the Federal regulations were it not for the fact that the Federal regulations supersede State laws in such case of conflict and prescribe for these States September 16 as the beginning of the open season.

The drive for the fourth Liberty Loan will begin in Garrard County by a speech at the Court House on County Court Day by Dr. R. H. Crossfield, president of Transylvania University. This is the largest loan that our Government has ever undertaken to float. Garrard County's portion has not yet been determined, but it is estimated at this time to be about three hundred thousand dollars. It is entirely within the ability of our County to loan the Government this or even a larger sum than this at this time. It may require some sacrifice on the part of many of our citizens, but we, who are at home, are willing to make sacrifice with the same heroic spirit that characterizes our boys at the front. We have our chairman and leaders in this drive, but the individuals of our County should all understand that this is everybody's work and each one owes a special duty not only to buy the bonds but to help induce their neighbors to do likewise. Just how much the Government needs your work and interest at this time it is unnecessary to relate. But if you want to do your whole duty in this drive we enjoin upon you to be at the Court House next Monday and hear Dr. Crossfield's address and volunteer your services to Mr. B. F. Hudson, our chairman and under his leadership let each man and woman pledge himself and herself to do their part. Let Garrard County be the first in the State to subscribe its quota. In the fourth Liberty Loan, Garrard County will not be a slacker and why not be the first to subscribe since we know now that we are going to raise the quota.

TOO MUCH WAR

The newspaper reader sometimes asks himself, and he sometimes asks the newspaper editor—only less politely—if it isn't possible to print something that isn't all about the war. The war is to blame; not the editor. In "Alice in Wonderland" runs the verse:—
"The time has come," the Walrus said
"To talk of many things:
Of shoes, and ships, and sealing-wax,
Of cabbages, and kings."
This was written a generation or two before the war, and the collected subjects were intended to be miscellaneous, and noncontroversial. Try to pick one of them that isn't a war-topic now. Shoes and ships remind us sadly of war-prices; sealing-wax recalls a certain Hague treaty—now a scrap of paper; while cabbages and kings have dug themselves in on the front page.
Don't blame the poor editor. The mailed fist hits you no harder than it hits him.

WHY NOT THE SEMAPHORES.

Since Lancaster has become a thoroughfare town for cross-state motoring, it would add to the convenience of the motorists, and to the orderly appearance of our streets to place neat markings at our crossings.

Until the recent placing of a guide post, travellers usually motored some distance down Hill Court thinking they were heading for Lexington. Eastern villages on much traveled routes, cater to the interest of visitors with attractively designed signs, giving warning of rail-ways and dangerous turns ahead, and also pointing out places of interest. The words "Welcome" and "Come Again" give a sense of neighborly acquaintance with the town.

Semaphores placed at the intersection of the four streets on the public square, asking all to "keep to the right" would fill a long felt want and lessen the confusion which is seen most every day especially on Saturday and county Court days. If we are not mistaken the preceding city council ordered these semaphores made and erected and we suggest that the present council carry out the suggestion as the cost will be very limited.

A TRIBUTE.

We instinctively lament the vanishing of a type long loved and admired. In the removal by death from among us of Mrs. Maria Kinnard Kirby we are reminded how few are left as of the "old school" gentlewomen, those dear, gracious women, sympathetic and devoted, with a tenderness that increased with our distress. In those days of large families where was much to do with heart and by hand, when hospitality was large and enduring, a spirit of loving service was engendered in childhood. In that period, too, of much inequality of wealth, of no organized charities and no trained nursing, to the women of the leading families fell much of the responsibility of looking after neighbors in sickness and of persons in distress. Such constant appeal to the nobler side of human nature developed characters very rich and mellow.

Whenever one chanced in case Mrs. Kirby making her way down a side street with a basket upon her arm one knew she was doing what her fore-mothers had done generations before her—visiting the afflicted with a gift to cheer. So in the removal of Mrs. Kirby one feels a distinct loss, a certain flavor gone from our social life, a spirit born of earlier days of a fine and generous people of "noble thinking and simple living".

The birthday cake, lighted, was brought in on a tea wagon, by Mrs. Gilbert, when to the delight of his little friends, Master Harold, dressed as a Lieutenant stood attention and sang "Over There." In the center of the dining table stood the tank, "Britannium", and held attached to ribbon prizes for the children winning the games. Unique boxes of candy in the shape of soldiers, sailors, Lieutenants, hats and drums, with red, white and blue favors were given each child. Delicious ice cream in white mounds with an American flag in the top, and cake was served. Master Harold was the grateful recipient of many presents from his friends, and is the proud owner of bicycle—a gift from his mother.

KHAKI COLUMN

Letters to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Conn, tell of the safe arrival of their son, Mr. Edd Lee Conn, in France.

Mr. Elmer East came up from Camp Taylor, on a five days furlough visiting his mother, and friends. He is looking well and says he likes the army life fine.

Lieut. Lucien Grant writes his home folks interesting letters from the destroyer, Stevens, off the Irish coast. He is becoming used to Irish weather which for the most part is a constant drizzle called "Irish sunshine", which no body minds and all go merrily along without raincoats. He describes a hall given by the officers to his boat at a country club house near the city close to which he is stationed. The club house was an ancient castle almost destitute of furniture. However, ever Irish beauty and wit and American gallantry made gay and brilliant the gaunt old ruin.

Guy J. Snipier, writes his mother, Mrs. Ida M. Lee, at Paint Lick, from which place he enlisted last May and was sent over seas in June and is now with Company B, 1st Engineering Corp., somewhere in France.

At the time of writing he says he is in a quiet sector, although the shells are bursting about him every few minutes. He says one soon gets used to it and doesn't attempt to dodge any of them and up to that time he has seen very few casualties among his own men, but on many of the fronts the Germans are piled in some places as many as four deep. He is well supplied with socks and sweaters and is furnished all the tobacco one needs.

Guy is eighteen years old and no doubt his friends at home will be pleased to hear that he is well and enjoying his work.

Mr. Brewer Layton, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Layton, has the following to say in writing friends in this office: "Dear Mr. Elkin:—Have received the paper and you don't know how good it feels to me. Just like a letter from home. And as well as can be and am doing my best to do my bit wherever I am placed. We boys know that you good people back home are keeping the fires burning while we are away and will do all you can to help win this war, which we are going to do for God is on our side. Have seen lots and will tell you upon my return. Remember me to Mrs. Elkin and all my friends in good old Garrard County for that is the garden spot for me."

Brewer is now stationed at Winchester, England, 1st Casual Co., from which point the letter was written.

"On active Service with the Am. E. F. Aug. 11, 1918, Geivres, France. Miss E. Carter and Marin Runey: Lancaster Ky.

My dear sisters:— I wrote you both a letter the 20th of last month and while not expecting an answer to it this early a letter is long, long overdue from you both and cannot understand why you haven't written. I haven't received but one letter on this side from relatives and that was from Bertha—don't know why John or James have not written but as usual they are the last to write.

I am now located at Geivres (Jevres) a little town of about two thousand population and about one hundred miles from the front and am quite a ways from the roar of the big guns. All is as peaceful and quiet as if no war was in progress, but have not the least idea how long we will be here, but am longing to be near the front where I can see the shells bursting and hear the roar of battle, but no doubt will not be there one week until I have had far more than I ever longed to see.

I see lots of the boys returning from the front and all have the most interesting stories to tell, but a person can only believe one third of what he hears over here. Some of them are in bad shape and never will be half the men they were, while others are real anxious to be back at the Huns.

There is hardly a minute in the day here but what the hum of an aeroplane motor can be heard overhead and we see so many of them that they attract no more attention than would so many birds—once in awhile an aviator gives us an exhibition of fancy flying and of course we stop in our work long enough to watch him for a few minutes.

I am well satisfied here and in fact feel better and like it much better than I did at Camp Devens.

The first two weeks in France it rained every day but since then the weather has been as near perfect as anyone would like to see—we are located in an ideal spot for camping and the ground is as level as a floor for miles and miles.

The crops raised here are about the same as in Kentucky—on our way up here I saw the first hemp fields I have seen for fifteen years and see lots of timothy and fields of red clover. Blackberry bushes grow along the fences and are loaded with berries and are just about ripe, but as we are not allowed to touch any French property we will have to do without a cobbler. We are going to have peach pie for supper tonight which will be the first pie I have seen in France—have not seen a piece of cake yet.

We are able to buy a bar of chocolate about twice a week, but it looks like we will not get any jam, jellies and etc., until we get back in the states. What few things we do purchase are supplied through the Y. M. C. A., and about all the French have for sale is beer and wine.

I still have the little pillow and never lay my head on it at night to sleep, but what I think of all you at home.

As this is about all I know to write will come to a close and want you both to write me a long letter. With much love to all I will say goodbye.

Ever your loving brother, Private Millard E. Carter, Co. C, 33rd Engineers, A. P. O., 713, Am. Ex. Forces

The following interesting letter has been received from Sidney Aldridge, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Aldridge, and will be read with much interest here, where Sidney is so well known and liked.

"On Active Service with Am. E. F. August 12th, 1918.

Dear folks at home:— I am now taking in the wonderful sights of the old country. I had a nice trip over and enjoyed it very much. I didn't get seasick but had a slight headache for a day or two.

I got to see a whale and several other large fish, that came up to the top of the water. I had to laugh when I saw the thing they called a train, it was a little short, dumpy outfit, but they don't lose no time in traveling, they get up and fly. The little farms remind me of old Kentucky. The crops are all pretty neat and the grass is pretty and green. See lots of stock, more than I expected to see but every thing is so old-fashioned. The children look funny with a little celluloid collar and tie and wearing a cut and vest.

We landed on Sunday and marched to the train from the boat and the kids hung on to us so we could hardly walk. The people here are not as large and healthy as the Americans. The old people came out and shouted with joy to see us pass, but I don't know what about. The English soldier boys don't seem to think much of us boys, guess they are afraid we will take their girls away from them, but they need not worry.

Well I guess I will take my shoes off tonight for the first time for two weeks. Tell all my friends there that you have heard from me and that I am well and getting along fine.

Will close, with much love, Sidney L. Aldridge, 306 Aero. Squadron, Am. E. F.

Aug. 4th, 1918.

My dear Mother:— I sure was glad to receive three of your long expected letters a few days ago, and to note that every thing is all right at home. Your letters were certainly cheerful and full of good news. Keep it up and don't fail to send an old home town paper each week; also send me the Courier Journal once in a while.

Our mail caught up with us just after we came back from the front was the reason I failed to get your letters sooner. We are again at a rest camp after being under our second baptism of fire for most of us, and I am thankful to say that I am alive and in good health, and glad to say that our Company made a good record and that we have a fine Captain and staff. I could not be a Marine and not admire our splendid Corps. I never met a finer and cleaner cut bunch of young men and I certainly hope to stay with this Company.

Ashley told me in his last letter that he had enlisted in the Marine Corps. He tried to enlist at Cleveland when I did, but they turned him down, I suppose the few weeks rest he had at home caused the Cincinnati doctors to accept him. I am glad he is one of us, and am going to try to get him in our Company.

I haven't heard from Billy for some time. Is he over here?

To-day is Sunday, and somehow or other I think more of home on Sunday than any other day. Perhaps it is because you always rounded we kids up for church on that day. Nu, Mother dear I do not neglect religious worship, and believe more in prayer than ever before.

This camp is located in a pretty part of France—in fact all that I have seen of France is pretty and we have had mostly good weather since our old tub landed here. Here's hoping I get to tell you all about the country some time in the near future.

Just happened to think—the Great War is four years old today. Let us pray that it will be over real soon, and that there will be such a thing as World Democracy.

You sure are doing your bit when you go the limit in War Savings Stamps and invest all your money in Liberty Bonds,—besides having your three sons in the service. I salute you! Don't fail to do Red Cross work too, for the Red Cross is the soldier's best friend.

I hope you, Grandmother and little sister are well and that everything is all right in the old home town. You and Margaret go up to see dear old Grandmother often and cheer her up and tell her to take good care of herself and be ready to see us when this scrap is over.

Love to all, Your devoted son, Pvt. Floyd K. Swope, U. S. Marines, 15th Co. 6th Machine Gun Bn., 4th Brigade, 2nd Division, A. E. F., via New York.

The following interesting letter has been received from our good friend, Billy Miller.

"Somewhere in France"—is Billy. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Elkin and dear friends:

A few lines to let you know I am well and happy and preparing to do my bit, have promised you a letter ever since I last saw you but you know what the rule is, "Business before Pleasure" but I will try to type you a few lines in edgewise, could easily write you a small size history, but "Rules and Regulations" forbid such publicity, therefore must tell you it rained day before yesterday and the sun is shining today.

Have certainly seen some of this great big world and do give old man "Columbus" credit when he had the nerve to go across the POND in the little skiff.

The men are all patiently waiting to walk down the streets of Berlin, as they all go around singing "We'll hang the Kaiser to the sour apple tree." Did not realize the value, the loveliness of the states until we passed out of sight of the Statue of Liberty, but ere long we will be able to look at it with a fonder hope and love than we ever looked at it before. Do not know just how long that will be as we have a pretty good job contracted for "Over Here" and as you know the Americans never do anything half ways they always make a good job out of everything, at present it looks as if we have plenty of Nails and Carpenters and are putting the "Sheds" on, on all sides, ha, ha.

The French are a wonderful lot of people and are indeed nice to all the Sammies, and they do their very best to make them feel perfectly at home. One of the most trying propositions is to see a beautiful French Maiden and all one can do is "Smile" as "She no understand English" and "we no understand French."

The French all live in what is known as villages and they go out to their farms and gardens each day, they do not live out in the country on their farms as the American farmers do, the upper part of their farms is the dwelling part and the lower part is where the horses and cows are, or rather their barns.

Haven't seen a frame house since I left the states, everything is stone, and some of them have certainly some history attached to them. Wish I could tell you of one extremely old place that I have seen and if you will think pretty hard you would have a good idea to what I have reference to.

Everything here is of the two-wheel variety, haven't seen a four wheel cart or wagon since leaving the States. I have often noticed in the RECORD where you would advertise for the friends of the paper to come in and see you and that "The latch string hung on the outside." The French carry out that method as they lock their doors and leave the key in the key-hole.

You would no doubt starve to death if you were to try to eat a paper here, as they can get the news much cheaper than the people in the States do, for as soon as the news is received an old man is sent to all corners of the village and with a drum summons the people all around and then begins to "rattle" it off to them, and as some of the men say "I guess it is right" we have no doubt to dispute it, ha, ha.

Would like indeed to be back in "The Land of Now", but under no circumstances would I with this trouble going on as it is for I love my Country, Home Folks and Friends too well and am glad that I have the chance and honor to show it.

As far as the eats and quarters are concerned really I tell you they are better here than in the States, as each man is accounted for and every man has a place and a place for every man, and when the men do come out from the battle field and return to their homes they will be able to master that great word DISCIPLINE as it plays an important part in the service. The Civilians think that there is two ways of doing things, such is not the case, it is always the RIGHT way but in the service you may add another word and make it read RIGHT WAY and ARMY WAY. The Y. M. C. A. are as free and as accommodating as possible and it certainly makes one feel good to be there, and no one can give too much credit to the Red Cross. My dear friends I guess that this letter is rather tiresome and will close asking to be remembered to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Amon, the dear folks at home and tell all the boys hello for me, and when Mrs. Elkin is not around kiss all the girls you can for a "Sammy" in France, after doing such a big job of yours not to let me slip from your memory, with greatest of love and asking God's richest blessings for all, I am sincerely,

"Billy" Miller, Corporal M. G., Co., 51st Infantry, "Somewhere in France" Via N. Y. American Ex. Forces.

P. S. Tell Mrs. Zimmer a bowl of soup would be appreciated.

"United States Army Base Hospital No. 67, Am. Ex. Forces."

Mesves-Buley, Aug 16, 18.

My dear Father and Mother:—

It is very difficult to find time to write letters and there is no news to write except that I am well and so far behind the lines that I am much safer than I was at home. At home there are at least automobiles and trucks that could hurt a person if he got in front of them but here we are twenty two miles from the nearest town with nothing around except hospital buildings and wounded patients, so don't be the least bit uneasy about me. If any danger arises I will be sure and tell you all about it.

At present I have charge of what we call the "ambulatory dressing room." It is used to have the patients come to that can walk and get their wounds dressed and also for all accidents that should occur amongst the civilian workmen. This will be a town of about 100,000 itself when finished. It will accommodate 50,000 wounded and the doctors and workmen, and all the help etc, will take about as many more. If anybody has any doubt as to the earnestness of the U. S. A. to this war all they would have to do is to come here and take a look at the way we are taking care of the wounded. The percentage of men who are killed outright is very, very small. And more than 95 percent of the wounded men are cured and sent back. That is where the big number of casualties came from during the civil war. They had no way of curing the wounded and therefore the losses were very heavy. The remarkable part of it here is the way these men are lit. They are shot everywhere and still get well. We have gotten them shot in the heels, head, mouth, liver, lungs, belly, legs and all over and out of the 1500 we have handled here only two have actually died and they both died from complications and not from their wounds. One died from pneumonia, the other from another lung disease. So you can see that the boys certainly are getting what is coming to them in the way of medical treatment. We doctors have taken up with them and there is nothing that I would not do for them and they feel the same towards us. All we want to do is to lick these brutes and come home, and by the help of God we will do it. The Lord is certainly on our side and there is no way for us to lose. These brutes are yellow to the very ends of their hair. They will surrender yelling "Kamerad" meaning comrade and then when our boys are not looking they will throw a hand grenade amongst them and kill them if they can. They will also lay down as if wounded and after our men run over them chasing the fleeing Germans these suckers will raise up and begin shooting our men in the back. As I have said, they did do that but not now. And I will tell you how our boys stopped them. They don't take so many prisoners and as they go over a battle field they wake these curs up by means of their bayonets. They soon find out who is dead and who is not.

Well, as it is getting late will have to stop as candle light is very poor to see by. Let me hear from all of you and above all things don't worry nor be uneasy about me. When work is done all we can do is to go to bed and we have to quit when dark comes as we have nothing to burn except candles and they are the next thing to nothing. I am trying to live right and am trusting in the Almighty to bring me through this and I am dead certain that He can and will do it. Lovingly your son, Sam.

COULD HARDLY STAND ALONE

Terrible Suffering From Headache, Sideache, Backache, and Weakness, Relieved by Cardui, Says This Texas Lady.

Gonzales, Tex.—Mrs. Minnie Philpot, of this place, writes: "Five years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side. It was right under my left rib. It would commence with an aching and extend up into my left shoulder and down into my back. By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days. I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone. Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go. I suffered awful with a pain in my back and I had this headache all the time. I just was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help me.

One day a Birthday Almanac was thrown in my yard. After reading its testimonials I decided to try Cardui, and am so thankful that I did, for I began to improve when on the second bottle. I am now a well woman and feeling fine and the cure has been permanent for it has been two years since my awful bad health. I will always praise and recommend Cardui." Try Cardui today. E 78

SEE THIS COAL SAVING FURNACE AT OUR DEMONSTRATION

September 20th, 21st, 23rd Saves 1-3 the Fuel.

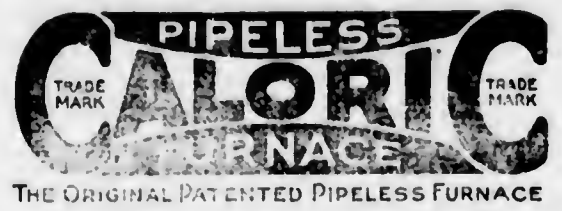

People of Lancaster! Here is the furnace that keeps thousands of homes warm as June throughout the severest winters known in this country, and at a saving in fuel that has surprised even those who are most skeptical about its performance! Here is your chance to learn about and become familiar with the Original Patented Pipeless Furnace which, coming on the market nine years ago, has revolutionized furnace heating by doing away entirely with costly heat wasting pipes! Think of it, you who have suffered the discomforts of make-shift heating systems! A comfortable even temperature of seventy degrees throughout the house—no matter how cold the weather—and no pipes to clutter up the house. You surely must make the acquaintance of the

PRACTICAL --- SCIENTIFIC --- ECONOMICAL

Phantom View of the Patented Caloric Pipeless Furnace, showing its scientific construction.

More than 50,000 Caloric Pipeless Furnaces have been installed in Homes, Churches, and Business buildings.

THE ORIGINAL PATENTED PIPELESS FURNACE

Read these important facts about the Patented Caloric Pipeless Furnace. The only furnace in the world of the kind for the home, it has been tested in every part of the country and in every climate. It is the only furnace that has been tested in every part of the country and in every climate.

NOT A PIPE FURNACE.

The Caloric is not a pipe furnace with the pipes left off. Neither is it an experiment, but a furnace built to meet a demand. It is specially designed and built to uniformly heat and ventilate buildings more economically and more satisfactorily than they have been heated by other heating systems. Its operation is based on the natural law that warm air rises and cold air falls. The patented features, which are used only in Caloric construction, makes possible the constant circulation and sterilization of the air in buildings in which Calorics have been installed.

EASY TO INSTALL.

The Caloric can be installed in old buildings without the need of costly remodeling. It can also be placed in new buildings with less trouble and expense than any other type of furnace manufactured. Requires only a minimum of cellar space and no space in the rooms above. Food of all kinds may be stored in the cellar alongside the Caloric because there are no pipes to radiate the warmth where it is not desired. Drafts are regulated from the floor above.

BURNS ANY FUEL.

Burns hard and soft coal, lignite, coke, wood and all other furnace fuel. Every pound of fuel consumed in the Caloric double ribbed firepot delivers a maximum supply of heat.

LOW COST.

The low cost of the Caloric Pipeless Furnace has placed this healthful, safe, sanitary and efficient system within everybody's reach.

DON'T FAIL TO VISIT THE CALORIC

EXHIBIT AT OUR STORE, SEP-

TEMBER 20, 21, 23.

SOUVENIRS

You will be interested in a most interesting demonstration of the interesting features of this wonderful furnace at the store of Haselden Bros. Come prepared if possible with a rough drawing of the floor plans of your house so that we can tell you if your building can be heated with a Caloric Pipeless Furnace and where the one register would be located in order that you, too, may be able to enjoy thorough comfort this coming winter. The Caloric is sold in Garrard County by the dealers whose names are at the bottom of this ad. If you will call, write or phone to them they will be glad to give you explanatory literature and put you in a position to examine the construction features of the Caloric at first hand.

You cannot afford to delay the solution of your winter heating problem until cold weather drives you to it. The government is urging people to buy coal early. What better then, than to buy your Caloric too.

GUARANTEED.

The Caloric is manufactured by the Monitor Stove Company of Cincinnati, an organization that has been making heating appliances for 99 years. The Monitor Ironclad written Guarantee, that is given with every Caloric sold, insures a uniformly and economically heated building.

OUR SHIPS, RAILROADS, MUNITION PLANTS, AND FIGHTING MEN NEED FUEL THEREFORE EVERY POUND OF FUEL SAVED HELPS TO WIN THE WAR.

THE CALORIC PIPELESS FURNACE SAVES FROM ONE THIRD TO ONE HALF YOUR FUEL. THEREFORE EVERY MAN WHO BUYS A CALORIC HELPS TO WIN THE WAR.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.
By W. C. T. U.

Whereas, it hath pleased our loving heavenly Father to remove from our midst our beloved sister, Maria Kirby, although "we sorrow not as those who have no hope", knowing that her "absence from the body is presence with the Lord," yet we would in our great esteem, and as an expression of our supreme regard and loving remembrance, offer the following resolutions.

That the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has, in Sister Kirby's death, sustained a loss that is almost incalculable, realizing, however, that "our loss is her eternal gain".

That we will miss her cheerful greetings, the inspiration of her presence, the helpfulness of her wise counsel and the glorious example of her noble Christian life.

That we extend to her bereaved relatives and friends our heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow, yet would bid them see through their tears, another precious soul standing waiting to welcome them at life's close.
